TOLD IN ENGLAND.

London Publication Again Resur- rects the Mythical American Who Toadies to Royalty.

A continental hotel keeper, says a writer in the London Truth, recently confided the following story to a friend of mine: Some years ago, after Queen Victoria had been staying at a certain hotel, a wealthy American called on the proprietor and signified his desire to sleep if it could be managed, in the same apartments, the same bed, and if possible, the same bed clothes, as those which had held the sacred person of her majesty before they had been sent to the wash. Money was no object to him. What would it cost?

The hotel proprietor was equal to the occasion. He thought it could be arranged for £20. A bargain was struck on these terms. The millionaire duly arrived, and retired to the royal couch. No doubt he thoroughly enjoyed his night's rest, and the prospect of subsequently electrifying his friends with the story of his regal experience. His pleasure must have been somewhat marred when he discovered later on that her Britannic majesty always traveled with her own bed and bedding.

Galileo and Urban VIII.
Galileo's wit got him into trouble when he put into the mouth of Simplicio, the foolish opponent of the Copernican theory in his "Dialogues," an argument that Pope Urban VIII. had himself devised, and insisted on Galileo incorporating in the work. Galileo made Simplicio quote it as an argument he had from a "very eminent and learned personage." The enemies of Galileo persuaded Urban that he had been "made game of," and this was the offense of which Galileo was guilty. It was not for upholding the theory that the sun stands still and the earth moves that Galileo was tried by the inquisition. Urban himself had supported the Copernican doctrines, both as cardinal and as pope.

Biggest Raisers of Hops.
The United States now produces more hops than any other country. Of the world's crop of 1,760,000 hundredweight, the United States furnishes 462,000 hundredweight.

Birds That Blush.
An observer finds that some birds blush. He writes: "We have a very fine specimen of the blue and yellow macaw which displays this trait—not often, for he is remarkably good tempered—and the 'blush' is an invariable sign of anger; so much so, that we warn all friends that while his cheeks remain white all attacks are feigned and in play and can be disregarded, yet if the 'danger signal'—red—shows, to look out and keep out of reach." The owner of a blue and orange macaw says that its white, parchment-like face becomes bright pink, especially above the peak, whenever it is angry or excited.

THEIR OWN BARBERS.

Increased Sales of Razors Indicate That More Men Than Ever Before Shave Themselves.

"There are sold in this country today," said a cutlery man, according to the New York Sun, "a hundred times as many razors as were sold here 40 years ago.

"Some share of this increase is due, of course, to the advance in population, but the greater part is due to the large increase in the proportion of men who shave themselves. More men than ever before now possess this polite art.

"With a greater number of individual users of razors there are, of course, many more razors now sold. And, of course, plenty of men own more than one razor; everyone ought to own two, at least, as many men do. One good razor properly cared for might serve its purpose continuously and well for a long time without regrinding or honing, but an accident might happen to it, and against that a man guards by having at least one extra razor.

"Many men buy sets of seven razors, one for each day in the week, and there are men who have sets of 31 razors, one for every day in the month. And travelers going to distant countries and into regions where facilities would be lacking buy cases of razors to take with them. A traveler starting out with a case of half a dozen razors in perfect condition would have a razor outfit that, with such care as he could bestow upon it himself, would serve him well for years.

"The best razor that can be made can be bought with a plain handle for two dollars; anything more than that in the cost of it would be in the mounting—in pearl handles and so on. You can buy a case of seven fine razors, simply mounted, for $12, or you can pay $50 or more for a case of razors with the same blades, but with fine mountings and in a finer case."

WE CAN'T EAT CELERY NOW.

Doctors Have Cut Off Another Article of Diet—Vegetable Said to Carry Typhoid Germs.

Now the physicians are said to have forbidden another relish nearly as popular as oysters at this time, says the Washington Star. Celery has come under the ban of the doctors, who say that it is equally well adapted to transmitting the poisonous elements of the soil and carrying the germs of typhoid. The disease can be acquired only by introducing the microbes into the system in food or drink, and for that reason advice against certain kinds of food is always likely to be regarded. But to what extent this may be carried is well understood by the proprietor of one hotel, who has seen oysters during the past three weeks disappear almost entirely from the orders of his guests. Some weeks ago a well-known man died of typhoid fever. He had lived at a large hotel, and the report went about that he had got his illness there. "Whatever you do, don't eat oysters at that hotel," was the advice that one friend was giving another, based on the belief that this man had died of a disease contracted in the hotel dining-room, where the chances were immensely in favor of his having got the fever somewhere else.

If they keep on there will be nothing left for us to eat except fish and fritters, and the latter will probably be cut off soon and pills substituted.

SOLD HER HUSBAND'S GRAVE.

How a Southern Woman Made a Profitable Speculation on a City Cemetery Lot.

"One of those things which go to show that where there is a will there is a way is well exemplified by a happening in a certain southern city," said a well-known former railroad man in the New Orleans Times-Democrat. "A man before his marriage had purchased a beautifully located lot in the city cemetery and paid $100 for it. After awhile he married and some ten or twelve years afterward died and was buried in the aforesaid beautifully located lot and his grave was carefully attended for awhile by his widow.

"When the big show came off in Chicago and all the world was en route to that mecca the widow took a notion she must see the show. As a result of long cogitation over ways and means she had the body of her deceased husband exhumed and railroaded 50 miles away and reburied at a cost of about $75, when she sold the cemetery lot for $600 and had a good old time at the big world's fair. Somewhat of a financier, wasn't she?"

Glass-Making in Japan. The art of making glass was introduced into Japan about 150 years ago by a Hollander, who settled at Osaka. For several generations the knowledge of the process was confined to a single family, and it was not until about 1879 that the employment of coal instead of charcoal, and the construction of brick chimneys, enabled the manufacturers to introduce improvements which placed the industry on a substantial basis. Osaka has continued to be the center of the industry, and now manufactures for export besides supplying the home demand.

Sure to Be Fired. Some butchers of Frankfort, Germany, evidently find it cheaper to be fined small sums for using boracic acid in the manufacture of Frankfort sausages than to be haled up for selling meats affected with trichinæ or allowing the dearer meats to spoil in other ways. John Klein, a butcher, followed the example of many others recently and was fined only $2.36. If this sum were paid every day in fines, the loss caused the butcher would not be so great in a year as the loss from meats undictored with the chemical.

Wanted.

We would like to ask, through the columns of your paper, if there is any person who has used Green's August Flower, for the cure of Indigestion, Dyspepsia, and Liver Troubles that has not been cured—and we also mean their results, such as sour stomach, fermentation of food, habitual costiveness, nervous dyspepsia, headaches, despondent feelings, sleeplessness—in fact any trouble connected with the stomach or liver? This medicine has been sold for many years in all civilized countries, and we wish to correspond with you and send you one of our books free of cost. If you never tried August Flower, try a 25 cent bottle first. We have never known of its failing. If so, something more serious is the matter with you. The 25 cent size has just been introduced this year. Regular size 75 cents.

Caution!

This is not a gentle word—but when you think how liable you are not to purchase the only remedy that has had the largest sale of any medicine in the world since 1868 for the cure and treatment of Consumption and Throat and Lung troubles without losing its great popularity all these years, you will be thankful we called your attention to Boschée's German Syrup. There are so many ordinary cough remedies made by druggists and others that are cheap and good for light colds, perhaps, but for severe Coughs, Bronchitis, Croup—and especially for Consumption, where there is difficult expectoration and coughing during the nights and mornings, there is nothing like German Syrup. The 25 cent size has just been introduced this year. Regular size 75 cents.—W. T. Brooks.

SOCIALDOM.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Mitchell and Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank Clay entertained Thursday evening, with a progressive euchre party. The beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Neely, where the party was given, is an ideal place for entertaining, with its elegant furnishings, it was tastefully adorned with many graceful ferns, palms and dozens of American beauty roses and scarlet carnations. Red and green were the colors used and most artistically carried out in the decorations. The hosts and hostesses stood in the parlor, where they received the guests. Mrs. Mitchell was handsomely gowned in white crepe and lace, and Mrs. Clay wore a very becoming gown of pure white crepe. Mrs. Samuel Willis, in white, Mrs. Harry Clay, in pink Mull, also assisted in entertaining the guests.

The dining room, where punch was served, was brilliant with its handsome China, sparkling cut glass and handsome mahogany furniture. In the center of the room on a flower-decked table, punch was served by Mrs. John Lyle and Miss Lizzie Mannen Turney, the former in a black net gown over white, and the latter in blue crepe de chine, which was very becoming to her blonde beauty.

Two very pretty cousins, very becomingly gowned in white, kept tally during the evening. They were Misses Edna and Leslie Turney.

After several very interesting games were played, a most delightful luncheon was served. The guests present were:

Mr. and Mrs. Amos Turney, Dr. and Mrs. F. M. Faries, Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Olay, Mr. and Mrs. C. Alexander, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Stuart, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Dickson, Mr. and Mrs. Swift Champ, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Hutchcraft, Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Tarr, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Barnett, Dr. and Mrs. J. T. Vansant, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Fisher, Mr. and Mrs. June Payne, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. George Alexander, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Payne, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Board, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Ewalt, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Talbot, M. and Mrs. Jesse Turney, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Yerkes, Mr. and Mrs. Miller Ward, Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Frank, Dr. and Mrs. W. C. Ussery, Mr. and Mrs. R. K. McCarney, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Brice Steele, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Lyle, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Clay, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Willis, Mrs. Newt. Mitchell, Mrs. James McClure, Mrs. Mary Davis, Mrs. J. H. Butler, Mrs. Robt. Goggin, Mrs. L. C. Moore, Mrs. Hugh Montgomery, Misses May Colville, Lucy Colville, Lizzie Dickson, Mary Webb Gass, Matilda Alexander, Mildred McMillan, Margaret Butler, Fannie Shropshire, Sue Buckner, Fannie Johnson, Bettie Brent Johnson, Nancy Clay, Allie Hart, Lucy Simms, Lizzie Mannen Turney, Edna McClinton, Mamie McClinton, Edna Turney, Leslie Turney, Messrs. John Brennan, J. Q. Ward, Duncan Bell, C. A. McMillan, H. I. Brent, T. H. Talbot, C. E. Turney, M. H. Olay, O. T. Kennedy, G. R. Davis, and Dr. C. G. Daugherty.

Judging by the interest being displayed in the farcical comedy "A Friend of the Family" which comes to the Grand Opera House Friday evening it will be the event of the season. The story of the play deals with the endeavors of an American importer of Japanese silks to shield a former love affair with a beautiful young lady while in Japan from his intensely jealous and romantic wife. Several relations and friends of the family are introduced and eventually get so mixed up in affairs that the interested party himself cannot tell "a relative of the family" from a "Friend of the Family."

Geo. W. Barnum as a sporty silk importer, Bartley Swift and Miss Alice Johnson as the heroine of his first love affair are the principal fun producers and they are surrounded by an exceptionally large and clever company of entertainers. The dialogue and situations are said to be exceedingly funny and are greatly accentuated when presented by such artists.

The scenes being chiefly laid in Japan, give ample scope for some quaint and beautiful stage settings and Manager Gorman has embraced every opportunity of embellishing the surroundings. The gowns worn by Miss Johnson and other members of the gentler sex during the action of the play are revelations of the dressmaker's art according to the glowing description furnished us by the press agent.

"LODGE OF SORROW"

Held By Paris Lodge of Elks at Christian Church Sunday Night.

"For life leaps the grave; the sleepers shall rise, Hopes never ends, and an Elk never dies."

The Paris Lodge No. 373, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, held their annual memorial service in commemoration of their honored dead, at the Christian church, on Sunday evening, the address being delivered by Elder Jenkins, president of Kentucky University, at Lexington.

The honored dead of Paris Lodge No. 373, are: Walter Champ, A. M. Gatzert, James Connor and Edward Keller.

The usual ceremonies of the order, which are most beautiful and touching, were given by the lodge, as is their usual custom, and the motto of fidelity, justice and brotherly love, fully emphasized in memory of their departed brothers.

The large auditorium of the church was tested to its capacity and it was the representative audience of the season.

Seats were reserved for the members of the order, who marched in a body from their lodge room to the church.

The address of Elder Jenkins was one filled with many kind thoughts, and was listened to with much attention, not only by the members of the order, but by those who were present who were not members.

The music for the occasion was of the very best talent in the city, and under the supervision of Dr. Frank King, which in itself was a sufficient guarantee of its excellence.

Little Fun Cost Him $35.

A middle-aged man, giving his name as Joseph Curtis, and claiming this city as his home, claims to have been robbed in "wicked Lexington" Sunday, in a saloon on Dewees street. Curtis swore out a warrant for "Shorty" Stanford, Robert Kinkead and Dow Green, who were locked up on a charge of the robbery. When searched at the police station none of the money was found on the prisoners. Stanford was released on bond, but the other two men were not fortunate enough to get out of prison. Moral: "when you go to Lexington, leave your money at home."

Taken all, it was a very poor court.

M. J. Murphy & Co. report: 150 cattle on the market. About 500 sheep. Sold from 3 to 3 1/2 per hundred. Feeders looking up. Crowd small.

AMUSEMENTS.

—Governor J. W. C. Beckham has been invited to be the guest of honor at Miss Elvita Proctor Otis' performance of "Hedda Gabler" at the Capitol Theatre, Frankfort, Ky., on Inauguration Night. It is expected that the Governor will accept this invitation, even although other duties may not allow him to witness the entire performance.

The invitation has been extended to his Excellency by Manager George H. Brennan, director of Miss Otis' tour in the play from the pen of Henrik Ibsen, the great Norwegian dramatist. Mr. Brennan said today: "We are fortunate in being in Frankfort on Inauguration Day and witnessing the proceedings in honor of Mr. Beckham whom both Miss Otis and I admire and respect for his personal qualities outside any political considerations whatsoever. Being a Kentucky girl, Miss Otis feels nothing will please her better than to have the chief executive of her native see 'Hedda Gabler'."

"We were originally scheduled to play the Capitol Theatre on Dec. 9th, but received so many requests for seats from Kentuckians who expected to be in Frankfort the day preceding that we decided to change the date to Dec. 8. It looks as if Frankfort's playhouse would not be large enough to hold the audience for Miss Otis and the Ibsen drama on Inauguration Night."

Family friends of Miss Otis it may be added, are arranging for a large party to see the performance out of Louisville, leaving Louisville in time for the ceremony at the Capitol and returning by special train after the theatrical performance. The above attraction will play in Paris, on Wednesday, Dec 9th
